Chiang Indicates Nationalists to Strike Back

By JAMES CARY
TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — The Chinese Nationalists said today they cannot permit Communist aerial attacks on Quemoy. A spokesman hinted at retaliatory action.

Four Communist MIG-17s attacked Nationalist transport planes dropping supplies to Quemoy Friday, forcing one crippled C-46 to land. The Nationalist Defense Ministry revealed today the MIGs also strafed the offshore island.

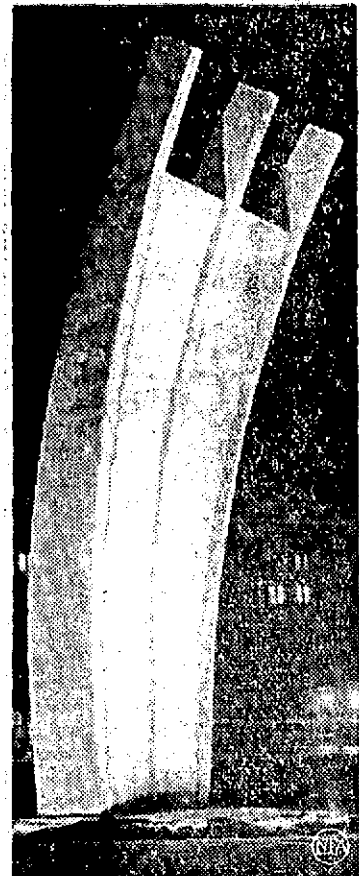

"This can be stopped," said Rear Adm. Liu Hsi-tu, the Defense Ministry spokesman. "We are not going to sit there and wait for the transport planes to be shot up again. We obviously can't let them do it all the time."

The transport planes were not under escort of Nationalist fighters, Liu said. When Sabrejets got there it was too late and the MIGs had escaped to their mainland bases.

The admiral's comment on stopping such attacks indicated fighting or escorts for future airdrop missions. It also raised again the question of Nationalist bombing of the mainland bases in the Quemoy area.

U.S. officers expect such attacks would provoke Communist raids on the Nationalist air bases on Formosa. Since the United States is pledged to defend Formosa, that would draw the heavy concentration of American military strength here into direct conflict with Red China.

Liu said the MIGs attacked a flight of C-46s with machinegun fire immediately after they parachuted supplies to Quemoy and then strafed the island's main town of Kinmen City. He had no information whether the strafing inflicted casualties.

LOFTY TRIBUTE—Curved like the end of a rainbow, the West Berlin Air Lift memorial is bathed in the glare of spotlights. It commemorates the giant air mission which supplied the city during the Russian blockade of 1948-49.

Nixon Declares Demos Think Only of Taxes

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Vice President Richard Nixon told a cheering crowd of Republicans here that a vote for Democrats in the House or Senate is a vote to raise taxes.

It also is a vote "to cheapen your money and to stifle the new investment and enterprise which means more jobs and more progress for the American people," Nixon told a bargain-priced $49.50-a-plate — Republican fund-raising dinner here Friday night.

The vice president was scheduled to leave for Washington, D. C. by plane at 8:45 a.m.

The speech leveled a few shots at former President Harry S. Truman, Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.) and former Democratic presidential candidate Adlai Stevenson.

Then Nixon reiterated his defense of the Eisenhower administration's policies on Formosa and the offshore islands.

Nixon commended Truman for his support of President Eisenhower in the Lebanon and Quemoy crisis. But he said the former president had been misrepresenting and distorting the record of the administration on other issues.

Nixon said Stevenson had suggested a plebiscite to allow the people of Formosa to choose the kind of government they want. The vice president said there would be more justification for such an election in Red China, Hungary and other Iron Curtain countries.

Nixon noted Sen. Morse had called for the impeachment of President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles for their conduct of foreign policy. Such an impeachment resolution, Nixon said, would get one vote—that of Morse.

Turning to the problems of the offshore islands, Nixon said (turning Quemoy and Matsu over to the Communists would not bring peace. "A policy of firmness when dealing with the Communists is a peace policy. And a policy of weakness is a war policy," he said.

Walter Brennan in Advice to the Aged

CHICAGO (AP) — Just don't sit here and complain, senior citizens. Do something constructive. That advice comes from Walter Brennan, 64-year-old actor who plays the grandpa role in real life as well as in the movies and on TV.

He offers oldsters these tips:

Stop, feeling sorry for yourselves.

Seek out constructive activity. Keep your minds and muscles occupied in satisfying walks.

Relax, and sharpen your sense of humor.

Give abundantly of yourselves in any way that you are able.

Brennan, who has 11 grandchildren, spelled out his counsel in an article published today in today's Health magazine produced by the American Medical Assn.

Adlai, Nixon Debate Almost Back to Back

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Vice President Nixon and Adlai Stevenson debated Formosa and other issues Thursday night—not face to face, but back to back.

The old foes and potential future rivals for president spoke in adjoining halls of the massive Oakland Civic Auditorium. A thick fire wall separated Republicans from Democrats.

Nixon told the Republicans the Eisenhower administration opposes turning the islands of Quemoy and Matsu over to the Chinese Communists. He said to do so would be a reward for aggression.

The vice president spoke of the administration's policy as being flexible toward negotiation if the Chinese Communists agree to a cease-fire. But he said it is firm against yielding to the use of force.

Stevenson told the Democrats that the United States should make clear it will fight to defend Formosa, but that the islands off the coast of China are another matter.

He said Quemoy and Matsu historically always have belonged to China. He also said the present fight between Nationalists and Communists is a continuation of the Chinese civil war in which he believes the United States should not intervene.

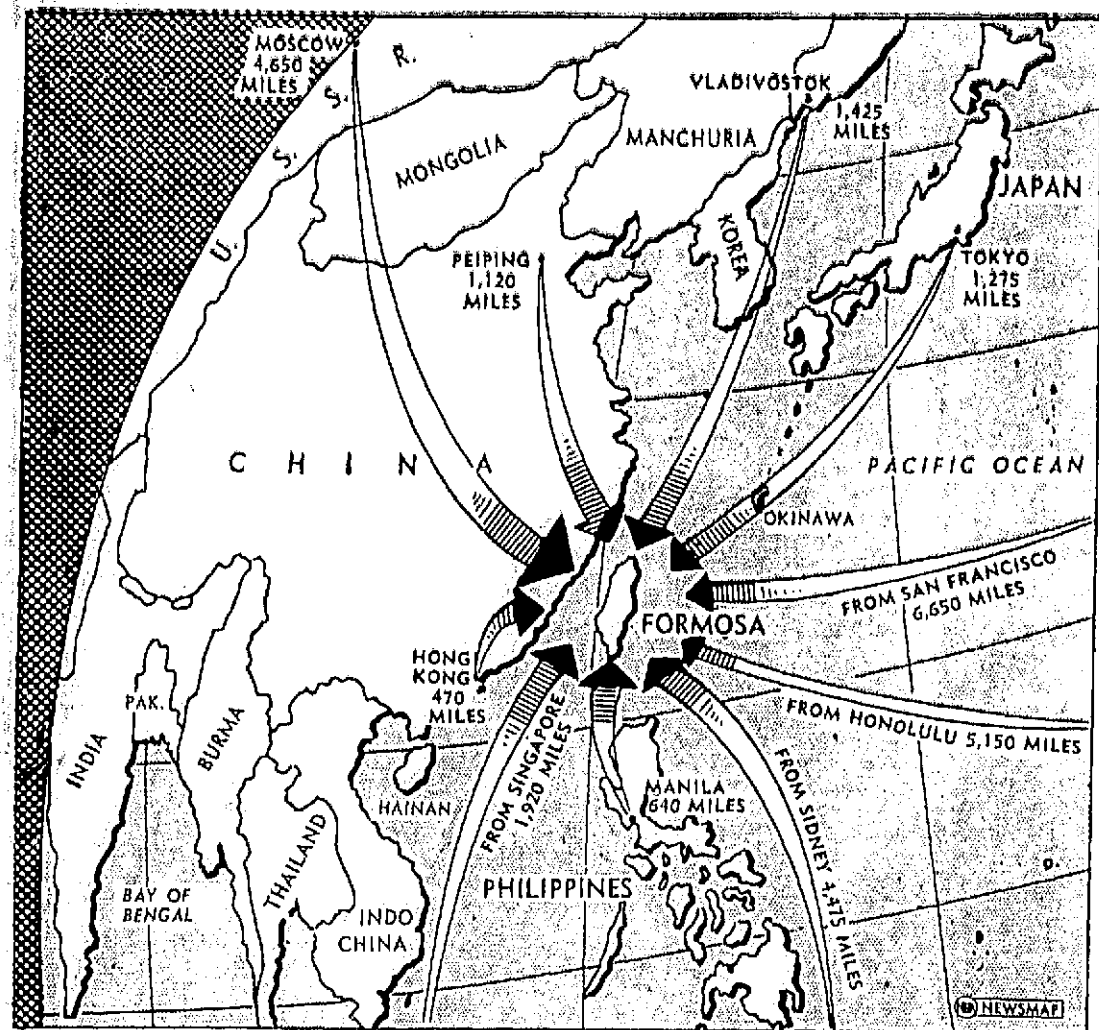

Nixon, winding up a campaign swing of his home state, spoke before 850 persons who paid $100 a plate for dinner and 1,000 more who chipped in $5 each just to listen. He was flanked by Sen. William F. Knowland and Gov. Goodwin F. Knight, Republican nominees for each other's present jobs.

Stevenson attracted 1,400 to a fund-raising rally sealed at $1, $5 and $5.

Nixon made several passing references to "orators in the other room," but did not mention Stevenson by name. Knight was more pointed. He described the "gentleman next door" as "some with holes in their shoes, some with holes in their heads." A Stevenson hole-in-the-shoe picture became a trademark of the two-time Democratic presidential candidate.

Stevenson didn't hesitate to needle Nixon. He started right off by saying he didn't know which Nixon was behind the wall—"the new or the old." He criticized President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles for "suddenly changing their positions" on Formosa, but observed, "Our agile vice president won't have much trouble catching up."

Nixon, on his side, denied there was either any change of policy or weakening of the administration position. This statement, he said, was a "proposal for reducing the size of Nationalist forces on Quemoy and Matsu in the event of a dependable cease-fire."

FAR EAST FOCAL POINT—With the world spotlight on Formosa and the Chinese offshore islands, and supersonic jets and ballistic missiles poised in both East and West, air-age geography is of primary importance should war erupt at this point on the globe. Newsmag above shows approximate airline distances to the Formosa area from major world cities.

A Fine Start Has Been Made Toward Restoring Washington

By MARY ANITA LASETER
Three months ago today a new program was launched at Washington, Ark., by the Restoration Foundation, the Community Development Club, and the town Council.

The Washington Pilgrimage on July 4th was the first of several programs designed to stimulate interest in the historical points of interest in that community. As a result, tourists have come from miles to see such attractions as the Confederate State Capitol, the Pioneer Cemetery, the antebellum homes, and the old Hempstead County Courthouse erected in 1874.

But what progress has been made since July 4th in developing this potential "gold mine"?

Work has begun to rebuild the old well where Crockett, Bowie, Houston, and others watered their horses. Plans and specifications have been laid out for the restoration of the old Tavern at Washington where plans for the Texas Revolution were made by Sam Houston and others like him.

Some of the material and timbers from the original building, built in 1817, have been saved and will go into the restored structure. An architect's drawing which recently appeared in this paper showed the way the completed restoration will look.

State wide publicity has been given to this project and for good reason. The State Chamber of Commerce has pointed out that if a community can attract a couple of dozen tourists a day, each day of the year, it would benefit economically comparable to acquiring a new industry with an annual payroll of $100,000.

"Though Fall and Winter are 'off seasons' as far as a large tourist trade is concerned, they are the very seasons when preparations must be made for the influx of people in the Spring and Summer months."

What tourists visiting Arkansas want primarily is comfort, a change, something to see, and someone to explain it to them. Historic Washington has the places to see. The hotels and motels of Hope, together with the cafes here, are vitally interested in this movement as they will be called upon to provide the food and lodging for the Washington visitors.

Selling a community to tourists is a long-range job. Plans must be made to develop the potentials, to see the word gets around, and to make sure that tourists are informed about what a community has to offer. Finally, an all out effort has to be made to rally everybody in an area to support such a program, the State Chamber has said.

Washington seems to be on the way to becoming a major attraction, and what is needed now is for the people in Hope and Hempstead County to support the movement with their efforts and funds.

Chinese MIGs Hit Cargo Planes

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Four Chinese Communist MIG-17s attacked Nationalist cargo planes over Quemoy today. One transport was heavily damaged and forced to land on a Quemoy beach the Nationalist Defense Ministry announced. "The radio operator and the navigator were wounded."

The attack occurred during an air drop of food and medical supplies to the blockaded Nationalist garrison on the island.

Ministry spokesmen did not disclose how many planes were in the air when the attack occurred. It was the first Communist attack on a Nationalist air drop mission since they began in mid-September. The Nationalists with American help have been trying to nullify the Communist artillery blockade.

The number of men aboard the damaged plane was not disclosed.

Maryland Governor Says Faubus Failed

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Without naming names, Gov. T. R. McKeelin of Maryland last night indicated he believes Arkansas Gov. Orval E. Faubus has failed to discharge his sworn duty in the Little Rock integration crisis.

And, he said, "loyalty to a political leader who is obviously not discharging his sworn duty is disloyalty to the country."

McKeelin, a Republican, was here to address 1,800 east Tennessee Scottish Rite Masons. At a news conference, he was asked how he felt the Little Rock situation might end. Skirting a direct answer, he declared:

"At any given moment, the government of a country consists of the officials charged with making and administering its laws. As long as they are plainly endeavoring to discharge that duty, loyalty to them comprises loyalty to the country."

"On the other hand, loyalty to a political leader who is obviously not discharging his sworn duty is disloyalty to the country."

At no time did he mention Faubus by name, but in view of the question, it seemed clear he referred to him.

Says Public Thinks Less of Doctors

DETROIT (AP) — A psychiatrist says the public thinks less of doctors now than it once did because the doctors make the mistake of wearing good clothes and driving the best cars.

"People don't like that," Dr. Lewis L. Robbins of Hillside Hospital, Glen Oaks, N.Y., told the Michigan State Medical Society.

He said doctors arouse envy by appearing so successful.

"People had reverence and respect for the old time doctor who sat up all night with the child, even though the child usually died," he continued.

"Now doctors do too well. They give the child medicine and cure him and go their way, appearing like highly paid and competent technicians to laymen's eyes, looking the human touch."

Belittles Ike's Foreign Policy

PENACOOK, N.H. (AP) — U.S. House Majority Leader John W. McCormack (D-Mass.) doesn't think much of the Eisenhower administration's foreign policy.

"What is the foreign policy of the Eisenhower Administration?" McCormack asked at a Democratic rally Thursday night.

"I don't know," he said, "and I don't think Eisenhower and Dulles know either."

Insane Slayer Escapes Prison

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — An insane slayer who vowed death to his victims' family escaped Thursday night from the maximum security ward of the Arizona State Hospital.

Police roadblocks were immediately set up in the Tucson area around homes of persons threatened by Paul Whalen 30, after the 1957 slayings of Mr. and Mrs. Fredlin Huff.

Hospital Supt. Samuel Wick said Whalen and another inmate, Harry Bill, cut a wire screen on the porch of the security ward and fled into the night. Bill, 42, of Phoenix, was described as not dangerous.

Whalen told police that he killed the Huffs, a wealthy southeast Arizona couple, on orders from heaven to stamp out evil.

At the time, Whalen threatened to kill relatives of the Huffs, the arresting officers and his wife, who later divorced him.

Warmer Weather Hits the East

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Warmer weather appeared on the way today for the chilled sections in the eastern half of the nation after the early October cool spell.

Although temperatures were much higher in the cold belt this morning than for the last couple of days it still was fairly chilly, especially in Northeast areas.

Lowest readings, in the 30s, were in scattered sections from Pennsylvania to Maine. Temperatures in other parts of the huge cold air mass from east of the Rockies were mostly in the 40s and 50s, with the 60s prevailing near the Gulf Coast and the 70s in most of Florida.

Generally dry weather prevailed, with only a few scattered showers.

Believe Meet May Have Changed Policy

BOSTON, Mass. (AP) — A secret conference of Secretary of State Dulles with a group of Harvard faculty members last Saturday may have had something to do with a seeming change in U.S. policy regarding Quemoy, the Boston Globe said today.

On that day, Dulles came to Boston to address the Atlantic Treaty Assn. The prepared address he brought with him, and handed out on arrival, said "our Formosa Strait policy was vital to Europe. Then he was whisked across the Charles River to Cambridge and met with some 30 Harvard faculty members.

The meeting was supposed to be secret but a story was written—although not printed—for the Harvard Crimson, undergraduate daily. Since then the story has spread by word of mouth, the Globe said.

The newspaper said these things took place:

After Dulles spoke for about 15 minutes, the educators questioned him for three-quarters of an hour. Their questions implied strong disagreement.

They wanted to know in substance what we are doing in Quemoy and "how do we get out of this mess."

Then on Monday Undersecretary of State Christian A. Hutter said in a speech the offshore islands "are not strategically defensible to the defense of Formosa."

About the same time civic leaders, including John J. McCloy, former U.S. high commissioner for Germany, were meeting in New York.

The story is that the conference was interrupted several times by telephone calls from Dulles, and even President Eisenhower.

McCloy's New York office said he was out of town and not immediately reachable for comment.

At any rate, the Globe says, on Tuesday Dulles told a Washington news conference the United States favored reducing Chiang's forces on Quemoy and Matsu if the Communists ceased their firing. On Wednesday the President backed up Dulles saying a cease-fire would open the way for negotiations in good faith.

Legion Questions Authority of Judge

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The American Legion's 40 & 8 Society said Friday it will question the authority of a California judge to block charter lifting because of a nonwhite member.

C. W. Ardrey, national secretary of the 40 & 8, said the society believes the courts have no right to interfere with its affairs, particularly its dispute over membership.

Gerald Lee, a Chinese-American market owner in San Jose, Calif., is a district commander of the American Legion, which has no racial restrictions on its membership.

Judge Raymond G. Callaghan granted a temporary injunction Wednesday restraining 40 & 8 headquarters from lifting the charter of its San Jose chapter.

Ardrey said headquarters officials will leave it up to its lawyers to return to court for the legal fight over issuing a permanent injunction. He said the 40 & 8 has restricted its membership to white men for 34 years.

The judge has questioned his own authority, Ardrey said.

Cars Banned So Student Gets a Horse

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — Like many other Princeton University undergraduates, Eric A. Grinnell found his social life in tow gear because of the university's rule against cars.

So, he got a horse.

More accurately, the enterprising sophomore from Rye, N.C., got a carriage and borrowed the horse.

Grinnell, the great-grandson of a Springfield, Ohio, carriage builder, bought a buggy—a "Brewster brought"—for $100. The green and black closed survey was built in 1878, and originally sold for $2,000.

The 19-year-old coachman's local investment, counting renovating charges and stable fees, will come to about $800. He plans to buy his own horse when he can afford it.

As for his use of the rig, Grinnell has more than collegiate horsemanship in mind. He plans to earn hay money by carting couples around the campus and the town on party weekends at $3 for half an hour, and $5 a full hour.

The university, which has denied undergraduates the use of motor vehicles or (these decades) gave Grinnell permission to drive the rig when he offered to use it for publicity purposes at football games.

How did Grinnell's parents react to having a carriage delivered at their home?

"They were in a state of shock," he admits.

But later, he says, his mother fell in love with the thing because it's so beautiful, and his father thought it might be good experience.

Walnut Ridge to Vote Bond Issue

WALNUT RIDGE, Ark. (AP) — The Walnut Ridge School District will propose a bond issue of $497,000 to finance a building program to replace structures destroyed in a fire last December.

The bond issue will come up for vote at the Democratic school election.

The fire destroyed a combination senior and junior high school building and an attached gymnasium.

With insurance money and a $50,000 surplus added to the proposed bond issue, the district would be able to build a new elementary school, a gym and a high school for $627,407.

The junior high has moved to the old elementary school.

No request for an increase in millage will be sought.

Disarmament to Be Big Issue on UN Agenda

By TOM HOGE
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Britain and the United States pressed today to give the crucial disarmament question top priority in the U.N.'s main political committee.

The two Western powers have been working up a resolution which reportedly would throw the support of the 41-nation General Assembly behind the big three meeting in Geneva Oct. 31 on working out a nuclear test ban.

The political committee, which handles the Assembly's major problems, is slated to begin work Wednesday. Its tentative agenda has placed Korea, outer space and Algeria ahead of disarmament, but diplomats felt there would be little opposition to moving up the disarmament debate.

Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld has been pressing to have the arms talks here as soon as possible on the ground that the U.N. debate would give momentum to the Geneva parley.

He has proposed that the Geneva talks be placed under U.N. sponsorship.

The secretary general also suggested in a memorandum this week that any control agency agreed on at Geneva should be integrated with the U.N. He further recommended that negotiations on protecting nations from surprise attack be held within the U.N. framework.

Russia has proposed that the Geneva discussion be raised to the foreign minister level, but the United States has indicated it is not interested in doing so at this stage.

The purpose of the Geneva talks is to set up control machinery which West experts agreed in July would be adequate to back up any agreement to suspend nuclear tests.

Iraq Revolt Leader Now Out Himself

United Press International Correspondent Herbert G. Spencer was in Baghdad following the July coup that overthrew King Faisal's regime. In the following dispatch, he analyzes the reasons behind the latest shake-up in the Baghdad revolutionary government.

By HERBERT G. SPENCER
BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — The diplomatic circle of Abdel Salam Aref, the exiled pro-Nasserite who was Premier Abdel Karim Kassim's right-hand man in masterminding the Iraq revolt, name us no surprise to some observers of the Baghdad scene.

"These observers had foreseen the strong possibility of his downfall more than a month ago when he was relieved of his position as deputy armed forces commander."

Fiery tongued and violently anti-American, Aref was too extreme an Arab nationalist to fit the pattern of the republican regime's determination to get the best of all camps—East, West and Arab.

"Nasser of Iraq"

There was also a strong possibility that Aref, now shorn of his posts as deputy premier, deputy armed forces minister and minister of the interior, had personal ambitions which clashed with those of Kassim and Ghidani, Minister Sadiq Shanshal.

Impressed by Aref's ability to excite crowds with the Nasr-type oratory he perfected day after day while harnstorming the Iraqi countryside, many correspondents and even some diplomats began tagging him as the "Nasser of Iraq."

"They supposed Aref would eventually unseat Kassim much as Nasser had removed the more moderate Gen. Naguib in Egypt in 1952."

Army All-Powerful
And in Iraq he who has the army has power.

It also became increasingly apparent by late August that Kassim and Shanshal were at the point where it was necessary to take steps to tone down Aref. His anti-Western tirades were painfully embarrassing to the new government, which wanted to please everybody.

By then, in private conversations with the highest Iraqi officials Aref got no stronger accolade than "he's a good army officer."

Aref's heavy-handed manner of dealing with delicate international problems proved embarrassing.

For instance, while Kassim and Shanshal advocated closer ties with the United Arab Republic, and there is no doubt the revolutionaries wanted a close-knit alliance with Nasser—Aref was openly pumping for union with the East.

"People don't like that," Dr. Lewis L. Robbins of Hillside Hospital, Glen Oaks, N.Y., told the Michigan State Medical Society.

He said doctors arouse envy by appearing so successful.

"People had reverence and respect for the old time doctor who sat up all night with the child, even though the child usually died," he continued.

"Now doctors do too well. They give the child medicine and cure him and go their way, appearing like highly paid and competent technicians to laymen's eyes, looking the human touch."

Greeks Report a Free Cyprus Government

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — The newspaper Vradyni, which supports the Greek government, said today a "Free Cyprus" government may be set up in Athens.

The newspaper said two Turkish Cypriots would be given the posts of undersecretary in education and interior ministries if such a government is formed and that it might be recognized by the Athens government.

An official of Archbishop Makarios' household in Athens denied the newspaper report.

The report followed the disclosure that Makarios, exiled Greek Orthodox leader of Cypriots who have waged a bloody fight for union with Greece, had prepared a sure that Makarios, exiled Greek Orthodox leader of Cypriots who have waged a bloody fight for union with Greece, had prepared a message calling on the Cypriots to "react by all means at their disposal" against a British partnership plan for the island.

Britain's partnership plan went into effect Wednesday. It provided for continued British rule for seven years with Greek and Turkish government representatives advising the British governor and with separate Turkish and Greek assemblies.

Turkey agreed, Greece refused. Makarios, in an effort to prevent the plan going into effect, offered to give up the demand that Cyprus be allowed to join Greece and proposed instead that the island be given independence.

British Prime Minister Macmillan, in a message to Makarios Tuesday, said he was willing to consider the plan as part of a final settlement, but refused to halt the partnership plan.

Jones Mill Workers Still on Strike

MALVERN, Ark. (AP) — Despite settlement of a nation-wide United Auto Workers strike yesterday, about 300 workers at CM Fibre plant at nearby Jones Mill will stay off the job until local issues are settled, a union spokesman said.

The walkout began as part of the general strike.

NLB to Rule on Small Businesses

WASHINGTON (AP) — From now on the National Labor Relations Board will handle cases involving many smaller businesses formerly outside its jurisdiction.

The NLRB announced new standards specifying reduced amounts of annual business a firm must do to be subject to supervision by the board in labor dispute cases.

The agency said the new rules take effect immediately.

Carlson Now to Chase Texas Outlaws

By BOB THOMAS
AP Motion Picture Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Having lived three lives as a Commie-hunter, Richard Carlson is now going back in history to chase down outlaws on the Texas border.

Carlson is the star of the immensely successful "I Led Three Lives." Though he hasn't made a chapter in the series for two years, it is still playing everywhere and bringing him a pile of cash. Has he earned a million dollars?

"Not quite a million," he replied cautiously, "though it may pass the mark soon." His next check, for example, will probably be around $30,000 for a three-month period.

No wonder Dick can say, "Television has been good to me." And it will be even better. He is well into his second series, "McKenzie's Raiders," also made by 20th Century Fox for syndication, not network play. But judging from his sponsors and the many markets already sold, he'll make as much or more than if he played the network first.

The story concerns a renegade Army commander who was assigned by President Grant to clean up the marauders who looted Texas as they vanished over the Rio Grande. McKenzie's orders were to pursue the bandits into Mexico if necessary, but he had to assume the consequences if caught.

"The situation presents all kinds of possibilities," Dick enthused. "I think the show has a good chance of clicking."

He went on to argue that it's the vehicle that counts in TV. "A lot of his who were only so-so in the movies have done well in TV because we had the right show," he said. "Let a big picture name like Frank Sinatra can do a flop, his name means nothing in TV unless the show is good."

Nicaragua Having More Trouble

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP)—The government press office today said National Guard troops had been sent to northern Nicaragua to check reports an armed band had crossed from neighboring Honduras.

There were no other details identifying the armed band. Earlier this week radio reports heard in Tegucigalpa, capital of Honduras, said a liberation movement had been launched by Gen. Remon Rivas against the government of President Luis Somoza. The radio versions reportedly came from stations in Nicaragua.

Gen. Anastasio Somoza, former chief of the National Guard, later denied reports of a rebel movement.

DOROTHY DIX

Summer Romance Puts on Indian Summer Comeback

Dear Dorothy Dix:

I spent my vacation at a resort where I met the man all girls dream of meeting. At the end of three weeks we parted and I was sure I'd never see or hear from him again. Last week he called to tell me he is being transferred to my home city. He hinted that he hoped we could pick up where we dropped off. This point, I may add, was one of friendship only. There was never a word of love spoken between us, but we did discover many things of mutual interest. Here's the catch. He told me quite frankly that he had been married, had had no children and his wife had asked for the divorce. My parents, however, are dead set against divorce and I'm sure they'd object to him for that reason. How should I handle the situation? — Irene G.

Dear Irene: Never, never, begin any association with an outstanding lie. If you date your summer romance, let your family know all the facts. Be guided by their reaction. If it's quite apparent that your friendship with a divorced man will be the cause of family quarrels, don't continue it.

Dear Dorothy Dix:

My husband and I are in a tight financial spot. His father is claiming we'll get the money after he's gone, and until then, it will do us good to do a little struggling. Is this the right attitude for parents to take? — Janice S.

Dear Janice: You can't argue with a man who thinks his coffin will hold a safe deposit box. The time to help people is when they need it. A few hundred dollars means more to you now than a few thousand when your father-in-law dies. I heartily disagree with his theory, but he holds the money and cares little if anyone agrees with him or not.

Dear Dorothy Dix:

"My Boy friend, whom I adore, has a facial disfigurement. He is so wonderful to me that I never even think of the blemish. However, my friends laugh at him and can't understand why I love him. They keep telling me I can do better. I know he's the man for me, but how can I convince my friends of this?" — C. T.

Dear C. T.: First of all, real friends would never take this attitude. You've become mixed up with a bunch of hard-headed kids and the sooner you change your brand of friends, the better. The proof of love is your willingness to share — the drawbacks as well as the assets. If you can share your sweetheart's defect, then you truly love him and are assured of a happy life together. If you have doubts, don't continue the friendship.

Dear Dorothy Dix:

I'm a middle-aged widow, going with a man who is quite well off. He claims it isn't proper to give an engagement ring to a widow. I never had a diamond and would dearly love one now, but don't want to go against the rules of etiquette. — Mrs. P. D.

Dear Mrs. P. D.: What yawns a man will spin to protect his precious bank account. You tell him that it's fitting and proper to give you an engagement ring, and don't let him squirm out of it.

Dear Dorothy Dix:

My husband and I are in a tight financial spot. His father is claiming we'll get the money after he's gone, and until then, it will do us good to do a little struggling. Is this the right attitude for parents to take? — Janice S.

Seniors Strike at Scranton School

SCRANTON Pa. (AP)—The senior class struck nearby Dickson City High School Thursday chiefly over some pictures of the student hangout.

They want the pictures printed in their annual yearbook. The faculty adviser says no. They also want to vote on whom the yearbook should be dedicated to. That's against school policy. The faculty adviser declines.

The seniors petitioned Principal Edward Munley after 65 of the 72 seniors refused to attend afternoon classes.

The petition listed other demands—a new class adviser a term were: President, June Brown vice president, Fay Hines; secretary and treasurer, Gloria Sherrard; reporter, Evelyn Tackett; social chairman, Lora Haynie; scrapbook chairman, LaRonda McCraven. Mrs. Marie Hines is assistant sponsor.

Plans were made for the Christmas box to be sent to the National Children's Home in Hot Springs. All girls, between the ages of 12 and 17, who are interested in joining the Missionettes are invited to be present at the next meeting which will be held at the home of June Brown on Monday night, Oct. 13 at 7 o'clock.

Mrs. L. D. Reed has returned to Texarkana after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Cam McGuire.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bemis returned Tuesday from several days stay in Little Rock with Mrs. Lillian Vaughn. Friends of Mrs. Vaughn will be glad to know she has returned to home after being critically ill in Baptist Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. B. A. DeLamar and Jess Hays returned Tuesday night from Memphis where they attended the showing of the new 1959 Chevrolets.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Stegar, Nancy and Hank of Excelsior Springs, Mo. have been the guests of his mother, Mrs. J. C. Stegar.

Mr. and Mrs. John Guley, John Bernard and Nancy and Grady Haseley attended the Arkansas Livestock Show in Little Rock on Tuesday night.

O. Lee, Miss Marilyn Lee, Miss Alice Grimes, Miss Sue Martin, Miss Lila Gimes, Mrs. Bill Gordon, Mrs. N. B. Nelson, Mrs. Thomas Hesterly and Miss Ellen M. Holt.

Proclamation

I, George T. Frazier, Mayor of Hope, Arkansas, do hereby proclaim Oct. 5, 1958 through Oct. 11, 1958 to be National Business Women's Week.

This annual week, sponsored throughout the United States by The National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc. is set aside to pay tribute to women in business and the professions, and the contribution they make to the nation. The theme of 1958 "National Business Women's Week" is "More Power with Womanpower."

Woman Won't Serve as Police Chief

CHICAGO (AP)—Press agent Patti Counts chose a cellar saloon today to tell the world she does not choose to serve as chief of police of Aurora.

While photographers ordered the comely cop-designate about for the best angles, Miss Counts outlined a few angles of her own. "I understand public relations," she told reporters. Her conference was called in the bistro she helps publicize—the Cloister Inn in the basement of Hotel Maryland on Chicago's near North Side.

Gone from Miss Counts' press-book was the pledge of Thursday that "I will fight anyone who opposes my appointment."

Instead it was, "due to the complexities and the state of affairs in Aurora I find it necessary to decline the appointment."

Mayor Paul Egan of the suburb west of Chicago named the 23-year-old Miss Counts his police chief to take over from the suspended Donald Curran. Curran hasn't budged from his office, though. Neither has the 68-man police force suspended by Egan.

Miss Counts said she'd come around to agree with Curran that her appointment would be "ridiculous." Egan called on her for the job, Patti said. "Don't Graham," a Chicago radio station program director, suggested her name to the mayor.

Egan in his 42 years as mayor, has forced about 10 police chiefs out of office. Curran says he is a stayer. The Aurora Council has recalled Egan's suspension, orders nonsense.

Soviet Bid for Meet Is Rejected

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department today indicated rejection of a Soviet bid for a three-power foreign ministers meeting Oct. 31 on suspending nuclear weapons tests.

The department announced that Secretary Dulles will be in Seattle, Wash., in early November. Press officer Lincoln White said Dulles will head the U.S. delegation to a ministerial meeting of an 18-nation group concerned with economic development of Southeast Asia.

The United States, Soviet Union and Britain have already agreed to negotiations beginning Oct. 31 at Geneva on a possible agreement covering suspension of nuclear weapons testing.

In notes to the two Western powers Wednesday, the Soviet Foreign Office proposed that the meeting be held at the foreign ministers.

Negroes Change Story About Shooting

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Police here yesterday charged three Negro men with a misdemeanor offense after the trio revised their story that one was shot by white boys.

The wounded man, Charles Beaver, 22, was shot in the shoulder as he and the other two Negroes, Robert Lonell and Joshua Saunders, both of Little Rock Air Force Base, walked along a street here early Wednesday.

Beaver first told officers he was shot by white boys who passed in an automobile, and Lovell and Saunders backed him up. Later Beaver admitted he had shot himself with his .22 caliber pistol when he accidentally dropped the weapon.

His companions then altered their stories to fit his newer version. Beaver, who was also charged with carrying a concealed weapon, was treated at a hospital and the bullet was removed. All three of the men were freed on bond.

Beaver first told officers he was shot by white boys who passed in an automobile, and Lovell and Saunders backed him up. Later Beaver admitted he had shot himself with his .22 caliber pistol when he accidentally dropped the weapon.

Bobeats Smash Porkers 39-13

Coach John Pierre's Hope Bobcats met the Texarkana Razorbacks in Hammond Stadium last night before some 3,000 fans and sent the visitors home a thoroughly beaten outfit. The 39 to 13 score hardly told the story as the Bobcats rolled up their fourth straight victory.

Hope definitely proved themselves as the powerhouse of this section. It was the second Big 4 team to be slaughtered by the Hope eleven this season.

Hope struck early in the opening period and Don Boethe night was underway. The Bobcat fullback, taking deceptive handoffs from Quarterback David Watkins who seemed to be better than the Texarkana line all to pieces the entire contest. In fact the visitors were never really in the game after the opening quarter.

Hope kicked on and on the first play from scrimmage. Texarkana fumbled to the Bobcats. The Bobcats drove 73 yards for paydirt with Boethe going the final six. The point failed.

Hope kicked and eight plays later, Halfback Charles Jacobs raced four yards to tie the score. Extra point try was blocked. Ray Duke returned the kickoff to the Hope 20 and the Bobcats drove 74 yards to the Porker one. This drive was set up by the long yardage of Halfback Bill Butler. Hope fumbled and Texarkana recovered but the Razorbacks were pushed deep by a 15-yard penalty. The Porkers kicked and David Watkins took it in and raced 35 yards through the middle for the second touchdown. Again the point try failed and Hope led 12-0 at the end of the first.

Texarkana started a drive in the second period which ended on the Bobcat 40, forcing Jacobs to punt. Hope took over on their own 16 and eight plays later the Bobcats had to kick. The Porkers fumbled and Hope had it on the visitors 14, thanks to an alert Jerry Thurman. The Bobcats promptly fumbled it back after reaching the two. But Texarkana was nice and gave it back on another fumble. From the 17, Watkins flipped a perfect pass to Ray Duke for the touchdown and Jacobs converted. The half score was 19-0.

The halftime show by the Hope and Texarkana bands delighted the large crowd. Brenda Hamlin put on a thrilling exhibition of twilight twirling with flames shooting from each end of the baton.

Hope received to start the final half and Erwin returned to the 16 and clipping penalty sent it back to the one. Watkins punted out and the Hope line held. On fourth down the Bobcats took over. Again Boethe took over and Hope marched 69 yards in 10 plays with Don Graves kicking the final eight for the TD. Graves kicked the PAT.

Watkins worked an inside kick successfully, giving Hope the ball on the Texarkana 41. But they fumbled and Texarkana recovered their own 38. Again the Porkers came and fumbled it right back. Then Boethe and Co. started to work and Don scampered the ball seven for the score. Graves again kicked and the score was 33-19.

Watkins kicked off and six plays later Bill Hain stopped a spirited Porker drive with an interception. Again Hope fumbled, the second team having taken over. On the first play from scrimmage, Porker Back Brown skirted and for 85 yards and Jacobs kicked the point and that was all for the visitors.

But Hope's seconds made one more tally, the final play of the game with Byron Smiley skirting right and for the TD, a 11 yard scamper.

The Bobcats journey to Crosslet next week.

Wing Shooting Warm Up

Each year when we go afield, we see it happening — gunners missing game when should be knocked down by anyone who is used to handling his gun. It makes a man wonder why the average gunner is so reluctant to do a bit of practicing before the legal hunting season arrives.

Learning to shoot a shotgun at least reasonable well is not difficult. The first requirement, of course, is to shoot a gun that fits you. There have been volumes written about shotgun fit, and the more you read, the more complicated the problem becomes. Actually, the thing is quite simple.

There are four critical measurements in the stock of a shotgun — drop at heel, drop at comb, thickness at comb, and length of stock. If any of these measurements are not in conformance with the way in which you happen to be put together, then you should do something about it.

First, let's find out just what these measurements are. Drop at heel means the difference in inches between the line of the barrel or rib and the top of the butt plate. Drop at comb (the part of the stock which rests against your cheek) means the distance between the line of the barrel or rib and the top of the comb. Thickness at comb means exactly what it says. Any length of stock is the distance between the trigger and the center of the butt plate.

Now, how do you find out whether or not your gun fits you? That's easy. Simply close your eyes, mount the gun to your shoulder, rest your cheek against the comb, in shooting position, and then open your eyes. If the line of sight from your right eye goes in over the breech so that you can see both the front sight and the entire length of the barrel or rib, then you are all right on drop at heel and comb. If that same line of sight centers along the rib, you are OK for thickness at comb. If there is an inch of clearance between your nose and the thumb of your right hand as it curls over the grip, your stock length is all right.

If any of these measurements are off-line, don't despair; most of them can be easily fixed. The drop at the heel is the serious one. If that is out, take the gun to a good gunsmith and get him to alter the pitch until the fit is comfortable. He will know what to do. If the comb is too high, your gunsmith can fix that easily. If the stock is too long, he can add a small check pad.

If the comb is too thin, so that you will cross-fire, a leather check is too long or too short, a leather pad or a little wood removed from under the butt plate will take care of things.

Once your gun fits and is comfortable when you mount it to your shoulder, the next job is to learn to point it. That's right — you don't aim a shotgun; you point it. Just like you point your finger. If it fits, when you put that front sight on a bird and press the trigger, it is your bird.

Cardinals in Major Trade With Redlegs

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals made a major baseball trade today, sending Del Enis, Eddie Kasko and Bobby Mahe to Cincinnati for George Crone, Alex Grammas and Alex Kohn.

Ennis, a power hitter and National League veteran, hit only .261 this year.

The Cardinals said they intended to use Crone as a left-handed pinch hitter and possible to spell Stan Musial at first base.

Mahe is a rookie pitcher the Cardinals brought up from Omaha. He has been blind in his left eye since he was 12. An air rifle pellet blinded him.

Grammas will be returning to the Cardinals as a utility infielder and possibly a starter at shortstop.

The Cardinals dealt him to Cincinnati in 1956.

Kasko, a player the Cardinals' front office held high hopes for, batted only .220 this year.

Kohn is a well-traveled left-hander who made his way in the American League before coming to the Reds from Kansas City five this season.

There was no cash involved in the deal.

dealing with a sympathetic neighbor.

Karen was carrying a blue parasol, blonde head band. She was sitting a sidesaddle on a white-stocked sorrel mare. Her dress was silk. Satin slippers showed.

"Where did you take Tom off to Lane?" she asked. "Why wasn't he there for his wedding? I know you went to see about a butchered cow, but golly it shouldn't have taken you a week. Where's Tom now?"

"At the Four - Arrow, or was when I left there at sunup."

"They plan to be married today?" Karen Mitchell's blue eyes were sharp as she awaited Lane's reply.

Lane decided to tell her the truth. He said, "No, they didn't get married today; I'm pretty sure. See my face? Tom's fists did that. Irma broke off with him, and he thought I caused it."

"But of course you didn't," Karen said, smiling. "Don't worry about it, Lane. If someone didn't give Tom a whipping every now and then, he would get so mean no one could stand him."

"You think I gave him a whipping?"

"I think you did if you wanted to give him one," Karen regarded Lane fondly, as though she were his sister and well pleased with something he had done. She glanced toward the southwest.

"That your herd?"

LÖNER—Mrs. Agda Rossel, Sweden's new envoy to the United Nations, is the only permanent woman representative to the Security Council. She took over her new post after seven years as a delegate to the General Assembly. Mrs. Rossel lives in Larchmont, N.Y., with her two children.

FACING FACTS—A pretty Nassau vacationer reminds the beach crowd that Halloween is just around the corner as she sips refreshment from a pumpkin-faced Bahamas coconut.

Matter of Fact

I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands, one nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

The words of the pledge to the flag of the United States, in its original form, first appeared in the Youth's Companion in 1892. The authorship was disputed for many years, but in 1939 the United States Flag Association gave the credit to Francis Bellamy of Rome, N.Y. The words "under God" were added by an act of the U.S. Congress in June 1954.

Don't Swear!

It's a Bible command... a common-sense law of life. "Thou shalt not take the name of The Lord Thy God in vain." THEN WHY DO YOU DO IT???

Careless habit? Limited vocabulary? Calloused soul? ... JUST WHY DO YOU DO IT? "The Lord will not hold him guiltless that taketh His name in vain." Man, too, will hold you guilty. The members of your family, — the fellows in your office, — the stranger on the street ... none of them like it! Your family deserves better of you. Your neighbors expect better of you. God requires better of you. Go to church and break the swearing habit. Learn to respect and honor and reverence God's name. Please don't swear!

You In The Church
The Church In You
— form a combination for good. Every man, woman and child needs the influence of the church. So, come let us go into the house of the Lord, let us support her program of service to humanity, be a faithful worker and attend services regularly.
